

a convenient and neat style; there is also a very respectable and comfortable inn, the 'King's Arms Hotel,' and the place, in every respect, is truly desirable as a tranquil and romantic residence for the invalid.

The parish church is a handsome structure, placed in a commanding situation, and, with its lofty tower, buttresses and pinnacles, forms a conspicuous object to the quiet aspect of the place. At the upper end of the village, is a neat Roman Catholic chapel, and near it a school-house, in which a considerable number of girls are instructed. Fairs are held on the first Monday in February, the fourth Tuesday in March, the second Tuesday in May, the first Friday in August, the third Friday in September, the first Saturday in November, and the second Thursday in December. The town contained, in 1841, 683 inhabitants.
